

Young's Hats
NOT BETTER MADE

The place to get any style or color in up-to-date
HEADWEAR.

Young's Hats

M. B. AULTMAN.

Young's Hats

DAYTONA AND ITS ATTRACTIONS.

The Queen City Of Florida.

From the F. E. C. Railway Booklet.

110 Miles from Jacksonville. Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

12 Miles from St. Augustine. Daytona Beach

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palms, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions. The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health giving breeze from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

Wheelman's Paradise
and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, road public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, City Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and the depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or

Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palms, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions. The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health giving breeze from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

Wheelman's Paradise
and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, road public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, City Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and the depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona
is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or

Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palms, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions. The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health giving breeze from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

Wheelman's Paradise
and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

The Beautiful Cottages
that have been erected during the past years and are being built are rendering Daytona as famous for its fine homes as for its beautiful river, trees and avenues, and they are adding yearly to its attractions.

Not the least of these attractions to those securing homes in the South, and ranking second only to healthfulness and perfection of climate, is the fact that its population is chiefly composed of cultivated and intelligent people, accustomed to the refinements of home and social life. Added to these features are good churches, road public and private schools, stores, hotels, laundry, meat markets, novelty works, an opera house, electric lights for street and house illumination, a good telephone system, ice factory, City Water Works, and hot and cold baths, etc., and everything else can be procured that is necessary to make life comfortable. An important feature in the healthfulness of this town is the

Water Supply
which is derived from numerous flowing wells of which there are probably 300 in the corporate limits. This flow is secured by boring wells to the depth of from 80 to 120 feet, passing through several strata of rock, and the depth assures purity from all surface contamination. The water is slightly impregnated with magnesia and iron, and holds sulphur in the shape of gas, which soon passes away.

The Population of Daytona
is about 1,800. Added to this is a suburban population on main shore and peninsula of about 1,000 at Kingston, Blake, Old Seabreeze or

Goodall, Seabreeze and Silver Beach, which are properly a part of the town and population.

DAYTONA is situated upon the west bank of the Halifax River at its widest expanse and midway between its source at Bulow Bay and its outlet at Mosquito Inlet. It is in latitude 29, seventy-four miles from St. Augustine and one mile from the Atlantic Ocean, and is acknowledged to be without a rival for beauty among the villages of the South. Its site is upon what is known as high hammock land that was crowned by nature with a most royal growth of majestic forest trees, and among these trees is the town of today, with its beautiful cottages and well graded walks and streets. The result is that all along the wide avenues that intersect the town are lovely live and water oaks and hickories, many of them draped with graceful festoons of the gray Spanish moss, that overarch the street and walks, and among these are interspersed tall tropical palms, glossy leaved magnolias, fragrant bay and coral-berried holly, and many other varieties, while in many places the wild grape, the trumpet vine and the amplexoid climb and cling among the branches forming shady bowers and adding grace and beauty.

The town lies parallel with the Halifax River, and extends for nearly two miles along the shore. This river is the delight of the angler and the yachtsman and forms one of the town's greatest attractions. The main avenues that run parallel with or intersect the river are all 100 feet wide, except Beach street, which is about sixty-five feet, but has a half-mile of open, beautiful water abutting upon its eastern side, where the salt waves ebb and flow and along and across which comes the cooling, invigorating and health giving breeze from off the wide Atlantic, which temper and render the Halifax climate one of the most perfect in the world. Daytona has many miles of well graded, macadamized and shell roads and streets, rendering it the

Wheelman's Paradise
and added to these, but a mile away, are thirty miles of smooth, hard beach, that affords an unrivalled course for long distance cycling and driving or automobile racing. No town of equal size, North or South, numbers so many wheelmen, and cycling is a favorite pastime with the tourists summer and winter.

During Advent there will be services at St. Mary's church on Fridays at 3:30 p. m.

George W. Byrnes, of Jacksonville, after spending a few days in the city, left last evening for the north.

J. A. Enlow, Jr., of St. Augustine, representing the National Biscuit Company, is in the city on business.

E. F. Grimes, of Cocoa, East Coast representative for the C. B. VanDeman company, of Jacksonville, is in the city today on business.

G. L. Mandeville, a resident of Titusville, is expected to arrive by the 15th inst. to spend the winter in Daytona.

W. J. M. Taylor, of Key West, has been appointed Norwegian Vice-Consul there. He also represents the Swedish government.

W. M. Pope, deputy clerk of Dade County, passed through here yesterday enroute from Washington, Ga., to his home at Miami.

Dr. E. H. Armstrong, the Jacksonville eye specialist, left this morning for St. Augustine, where he will remain, the balance of the week.

E. J. Walker and Fred D. Miller, two well known railroad men of Atlanta, who spent the past day or two here, left today for Miami.

Smith and Thomas, the real estate dealers, have purchased a Cadillac machine, from McCoy Brothers. Their horse recently died, but now, they intend to use the horseless carriage.

J. H. Schreyer, of Detroit Mich., is among the recent arrivals in the city. He has leased the south window in the Mills building through Smith and Thomas, and will in a few days open a jewelry shop.

Dr. F. H. Houghton, of Titusville, is in the city and is making arrangements to open a dental office here in the near future. Dr. Houghton has a number of friends in this city who will be glad to have him here.

William M. Kelley, of Watertown, Wis., arrived in the city Tuesday to spend the winter months. Mr. Kelley is highly pleased with Daytona's admirable climate, and he prefers this place to any he has yet visited. He has a number of friends here, and they are always glad to welcome him.

General Manager G. F. Miles, of the Coast Line Canal and Transportation Company, has returned to St. Augustine from Pomfret, Ct., accompanied by Mrs. Miles. The gentleman will leave St. Augustine in a few days on a tour of inspection of the canal work.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

Gray Eyes and Lovelight. There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

There are no finer eyes in the world than those clear gray eyes of Quaker gray that now and then we see in some good woman's face. Somehow or other they fill you with a vague desire to pray. They are the eyes that shine with lovelight (a beautiful old word), the light of an exceeding kindness for all living things.

The green iris has had a bad reputation. Shakespeare speaks of eyes "green as leeks" and jealousy as a "green-eyed monster." A person with green eyes is often stigmatized as "cat eyed" and is supposed to possess all a cat's purring and ingratiating insinuation.—Brown Book.

A Scotch Transaction. A highlander who sold brooms went into a barber shop in Glasgow to get shaved. The barber bought one of his brooms and after having shaved him asked the price of it. "Two pence," said the highlander. "No, no," said the other. "I will give you a penny, and if that does not satisfy you take your broom again." The highlander took it and asked what he had to pay. "A penny," said the barber. "I will give you a bayonet, and if that doesn't satisfy you put on my beard again."—London Tatler.

E. T. Conrad & Co.
THE GROCERS.

Our Stock is Complete and Why So?

BECAUSE WE DO THE TRADE OF THE TOWN

We make a specialty of handling only the BEST.

BON BONS and CHOCOLATES.

IF IT'S

A Box of Stationery
A Nice Book
A Piece of Fine China
A Souvenir Spoon
A Piece of Jewelry
YOU WANT. CALL ON US

GEO. H. CLARK

MILLINERY.

M. ELLA DEVOY & CO.

We are showing a carefully selected stock of Millinery Goods, Ready-to-Wear Hats, in broad brims, toques and turbans, Tourists Caps in cloth, duck, linen and patent leather, Children's Wear in the rolling sailor middy caps, Tam o' Shanters, Napoleons and Continental shapes, also Infant's white silk and mull bonnets.

We give our personal attention to fitting and making custom hats from a choice selection of soft braids, silks, laces, flowers, wings, tips, etc. Thanking you for favors conferred, it will be our aim to merit your patronage in the future. No. 6, South Beach St., Daytona, Fla.

PHONE 34

McCoy Brothers

FOR AUTOS OR BOATS.

Auto Livery Cars to Rent to any and all points at Reasonable Rates by Trip or Hour. Cars for Sale or Rent by the Season. Can rent you cheaper than you can bring one here.

We are making up a party to go on the steamer Uncle Sam to Palm Beach and return, sailing over the far-famed Indian River, past orange groves and pineapple plantations, making a trip never to be forgotten. Boats for sale or charter.

Go Fishing in a Motor Row Boat.

IT PAYS TO BUY.....
Clothing, Shoes and Furnishings at
THE GLOBE.

We Have the Exclusive Sale of Kirschbaum's, Grief's, Loraine's and Schwab's Clothing; Sletson, Bostonian and James Mean's Shoes for Men; the Drew, Shelby, Crocker and Craedock-Terry Shoes for Women; and the Best Children's Shoes Made.

THE YOUMAN, BLUE RIBBON, WEBSTER and ASTORIA HATS.
LARGEST STOCK. LOWEST PRICES.

The Globe

116 So Beach St.

'Phone 71.

This space is reserved for the schedule of
STEAMER "CHEROKEE"
HEATH & DICKINSON, Proprietors.
Phone 6.
For Charter until put on regular run.